

WhatFinger.comFar Better Than Drudge

(<http://whatfinger.com/>)

This is America's Enemy Within

Castro's Communist Cuba and Our Congressional Black Caucus

By JB Williams (</members/1/JBWilliams/17>) — Bio and Archives (</members/1/JBWilliams/17>)--
April 8, 2009

American Politics, News (<https://canadafreepress.com/categories/american-politics>) | CFP Comments (</article-comment/castros-communist-cuba-and-our-congressional-black-caucus#comments>) | Reader Friendly (https://canadafreepress.com/print_friendly/castros-communist-cuba-and-our-congressional-black-caucus) | Subscribe (<https://www.subscribepage.com/i2b4p3>) | Email Us (<mailto:letters@canadafreepress.com>)

While the leftist American press kept public attention focused upon Obama's International Apology Hajj (<https://canadafreepress.com/index.php/article/10036>), working around the clock to put a positive spin on Obama's failed Throw America Under the Bus Tour abroad, another important and equally dastardly trip was taking place below the average American's radar...

Six members of the US Congress traveled to Castro's Communist Cuba over the weekend to open talks aimed at establishing a cooperative relationship between the United States and Communist Cuba. The six member Congressional delegation to Cuba included the following House Representatives;

Hon. Emanuel Cleaver (MO-05)
Hon. Marcia L. Fudge (OH-11)
Hon. Barbara Lee (CA-09)
Hon. Laura Richardson (CA-37)
Hon. Bobby Rush (IL-01)
Hon. Mel Watt (NC-12)

All six are leadership members within the 2009 Congressional Black Caucus (<http://www.thecongressionalblackcaucus.com/>). The caucus, founded by one time card carrying member of the Communist Party, U.S. Congressman John Conyers, Jr. (<http://conyers.house.gov/>) of Michigan, has 42 members as of today, 30 of which are also members of the Congressional Progressive Caucus (<http://cpc.grijalva.house.gov/>).

The Congressional Progressive Caucus is the official legislative arm of the Democratic Socialists of America (<http://www.dsausa.org/>), boasting 76 congressional members today, 30 of which are also members of the Congressional Black Caucus.

The Democratic Socialists of America proudly proclaim, "The Democratic Socialists of America (DSA) is the largest socialist organization in the United States, and the principal U.S. affiliate of the Socialist International. DSA's members are building progressive movements for social change while establishing an openly socialist presence in American communities and politics."

No Imagination Required

At a time in American history when truth is stranger than fiction, and not all conspiracies are just nutty theories, very real "change" is taking place in plain view, and still, most Americans seem none the wiser...

America is being systematically stripped of its freedom and liberty, and shoved into global secular socialism right before your eyes, and the average American seems completely unaware and disengaged.

In less than 90 days in office, a freshman senator with a completely blank résumé and a past so secret that he still refuses to release his birth or college records, a man known to have a life filled with highly questionable friends, has grabbed control of the banking industry, the auto industry and the energy industry, while working on grabbing the health industry and nationalizing full federal control of the US economy.

Private earnings and assets are under attack, the stock market having lost more than 30% of its value, homes loosing more than 20% of their value, as unemployment and home foreclosures continue to sky-rocket.

Personal freedom and individual liberty are also under attack at every turn, and despite all of the undeniable evidence, the average American has yet to connect the dots.

No imagination is required today. No theories need to be floated. What is happening to America is happening right out in the open, in plain view. But the average American is deaf, dumb and blind, not to mention stupid, lazy and spineless...

Maybe a Little History will Help

Both the Communist Party and Socialist Party have actively existed in America since the early 1900's. But they had little success working outside of America's strong two party system, winning only local government offices once in a great while.

As the Democratic Socialists of America explain on their history page, "Eugene Debs (<http://www.dsausa.org/about/DTH.html>) ran for President in 1900 as the candidate of the newly unified socialist movement, he attracted a mere one hundred thousand votes. As the Socialist Party's standard-bearer twelve years later, he won nearly a million votes, some 6 percent of the total. In some states, such as Oklahoma, Washington, and California, the Socialist share of the vote climbed into the double digits. Over the same twelve-year period, the Socialist Party expanded its membership from 10,000 to nearly 120,000. Twelve hundred of these Socialists were elected to public office across the United States, including mayors from Flint, Butte, and Berkeley."

Here are just a few vital historical facts as quoted from the Democratic Socialists of America history page...

Socialists were influential in the leadership of some major American Federation of Labor (AFL) unions, as well as in independent unions such as the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Socialist radicals in the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW) pioneered in the organization of unions among immigrant workers in mass production industries.

While the Socialist Party was not immune to the racism endemic in turn of-the-century America, Socialists were among the founders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

The ideas of the Socialist movement attracted a growing following on college campuses, in church groups, and in the settlement house and women's movements.

The key to the Socialist Party's success in the 1910s was unity in diversity.

Socialists put their main emphasis on electoral or union organizing. (See ACORN)

Communists were influential in drives to organize the auto, steel, electrical, and longshore industries, among others.

While neither Socialists nor Communists were able to replicate the electoral successes of the Debsian era, the Socialists were able to attract a million votes for Norman Thomas, their Presidential candidate in 1932. Running in the Democratic primary, the Socialist novelist Upton Sinclair captured the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in California in 1934.

DSOC continues to operate, in the old Socialist or Communist manner, as the left-wing of the New Deal coalition, clearly now not as a separate political party, but as an explicitly socialist force within the Democratic Party and the labor movement.

I strongly recommend that you take time to read the entire history of the Democratic Socialists of America, because this is who is currently in full unbridled control of the United States in Washington DC. (DSA History here (<http://www.dsausa.org/about/history.html>)) For a time, this group operated under the political title of the New Left, then just the New Party (<http://www.newparty.org/>). Barack Obama ran for Illinois state office on the New Party ticket and failed before moving to the Democrat ticket with an endorsement from the New Party, and winning.

The New Party was a Marxist political coalition whose objective was to endorse and elect leftist public officials—most often Democrats. Most New Party members hailed from the HYPERLINK "<http://www.dsausa.org/>" Democratic Socialists of America and the militant organization ACORN. The party's Chicago chapter also included a large contingent from the Committees of Correspondence, a Marxist coalition of former Maoists, Trotskyists, and Communist Party USA members.

Still Wondering...

Why today's Democrats seem more like communists than classic liberals?

Today's Democrat Party is controlled by the Congressional Progressive Caucus, the official legislative arm of the Democratic Socialists of America.

When the US Communist Party and US Socialist Party failed in efforts to work outside of America's powerful two party system, leaders within both parties left those two failing parties and formed the Democratic Socialists of America, designed to work from within the two party system. They chose to work from within the Democrat Party, which was already attempting to align itself as a "people's party," funded largely by labor unions, controlled by the Democratic Socialists of America.

They were successful in doing so via their legislative arm, the Congressional Progressive Caucus, which includes most members of the Congressional Black Caucus, 30 of 42 members to be exact.

The Enemy Within?

The problem with the Congressional Black Caucus is not the color of its members' skin. The problem with the Gay Rights movement isn't the fact that its members are Gay. The problem with the anti-war movement isn't that its members oppose war of any kind for any reason. The problem with the Women's Lib movement isn't that women seek equal Rights under the law.

The problem with ALL of these movements is the reality that they were ALL long ago hijacked and exploited by the Democratic Socialists of America, once operating under the respective Communist Party USA and Socialist Party USA.

Like it or not, have the intellectual capacity to grasp it or not, this is reality. This is America's Enemy Within...

These three organizations represent everything that is wrong with America today...

Democratic Socialists of America
Congressional Progressive Caucus
Congressional Black Caucus

The "Change" These People Have in Mind

What in the world could the United States possibly have in common with Castro's Communist Cuba?

The answer is nothing. - However, Castro has much in common with the six members of Congress who just returned from Cuba. Like Castro, the six members of Congress who just returned from Cuba, share a common belief in Communism, and a common disdain for freedom, especially "economic freedom," otherwise known as free market capitalism.

Likewise, the new Obama Administration shares the belief that capitalism, aka economic freedom, is the problem, rather than the solution to current economic woes, which were actually created by members of the Congressional Black Caucus.

It was the Congressional Black Caucus and the Congressional Progressive Caucus which together forced American lenders to make ill-advised loans to unqualified borrowers, which predictably became the "toxic loans" packaged into "toxic securities" by Fannie and Freddie, also operating at the command and control of these organization.

These same groups, with members back at the helm of Congressional oversight committees after the 2006 mid-term elections, gained ultimate political power by refusing numerous attempts by the Bush administration to head off the impending financial calamity that had to surface sooner or later. If you have any doubts, please take a few minutes to watch this very telling video (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cMnSp4qEXNM>), an indisputable timeline account of failed Bush Administration efforts to confront the coming financial disaster before it could fully materialize.

These same people are now rushing to seize control of private industry after private industry...

What More Do You Need to Know?

All things American are currently under unbridled attack from within the halls of our federal government. If you are at all awake, you don't need me to tell you this.

If you have been trying to understand what you see happening to our country and want to know who we are fighting for the future freedom of our people, then you now know who the enemy is... and that they are indeed operating within...

If you need to know what you can do about it, our Founders provided the answer to that question in our Founding document, the Declaration of Independence, which established America as a free, self-governed, sovereign nation built upon specific fundamental precepts of freedom and certain unalienable individual Rights, endowed by our Creator.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

Is there any doubt in your mind that our federal government has become completely "destructive of these ends?" There is NO doubt in my mind.

Must we completely "abolish" the federal government and "institute new government?" Or, is there an opportunity to "alter" that government by eliminating only the portions of that government which are "destructive of these ends?"

Most Americans can now sense an enemy within. This column was written for the sole purpose of bringing that enemy into clear focus. If you have any serious doubts about the facts presented in this column, please use the links provided to research the facts for yourself and draw your own conclusions.

The Founders told us how to deal with such internal threats to freedom and liberty...

What are we waiting for?

VIEW Comments (/article-comment /castros-communist-cuba-and-our-congressional-black-caucus#comments)

JB Williams -- Bio and Archives (/members/1/JBWilliams/17)

JB Williams is a writer on matters of history and American politics with more than 3000 pieces published over a twenty-year span. He has a decidedly conservative reverence for the Charters of Freedom, the men and women who have paid the price of freedom and liberty for all, and action oriented real-time solutions for modern challenges. He is a Christian, a husband, a father, a researcher, writer and a business owner.

Older articles by JB Williams (<http://www.canadafreepress.com/writers/jb-williams.htm>)
